Oct Demonstration

"Late Summer" – watercolor painting by Jim Rainville

The Chelmsford Art Society is presenting George "Jim" Rainville who will demonstrate watercolor painting at the Chelmsford Public Library. A graduate of Univ. of NH he worked in Boston for the Insurance Industry for forty years. Since retirement, he has studied extensively at MA College of Art, and began his painting career by taking courses at adult education, and then in studio lessons with several well known local artists.

Jim Rainville has been active in the Reading Art Association, the Copley Society and has been on the Board of the Chelmsford Art Society. This summer he was awarded "Best in Show" at the 4th of July Art Festival in Chelmsford. He won for one of his landscapes painted in his minimalist style.

The Chelmsford Art Society will meet for the demonstration on Tues, Oct 26, 2011, at 7:00 pm at Chelmsford Public Library, 25 Boston Rd. Chelmsford, MA.

Sincerely,

Helen Moriarty, Publicity
Chairman

A Word from the President

After starting the year with an inspiring and entertaining acrylic demonstration by Tom Gill, fall is already upon us. We just have a couple of months to get our art work ready for the December Members' Show at the Chelmsford Public Library.

This year we will also have a show of the art work done at the Chelmsford Farmers' Market in November at the Library.

Please especially attend the CAS receptions that are held for these shows. It is also good to give support to individual members by attending their shows and receptions.

Let's make this a great year for CAS.

Thanks,
Helen Moriarty
